Soldiers' Letters

Extracts from letters written by Sergt. Alfred Dyer Co. D, 103 U. S. Inf., to his wife, Maggie Dyer, Fair street, Norway, May 16, 1918.

I received your most welcome letter today, I was uneasy as it has been a month since your last letter. Glad to know that you are all well. The boys are out of the lines now getting a well earned rest. They have had a hard time of it, but the Boche got the worst of it. He lieve me the tanks are too good for them. You no doubt have heard all manner of stories by this time, don't believe them and worry, for we cannot all die in this war.

I met Chester Gates, he just came out of Verdun Hospital and was going back to his outfit, the 15th Artillery. He was in for shell shock, but is in fighting trim again. I also met Jesse Farum, he is Corporal in the 101st Stos Mortar Battery. We have lost a few men, but they died good.

May 19th.
Received two letters. You have no idea how it puts new life in a fellow to receive mail from his dear one at home. I feel like a new man and could kill a dozen Bosches. To-day being Sunday, I went to church at the Y. M. C. A. It has been the first chance that I have had to go for a long time. Bert Worthen and I hope to go next Sunday and take Communion Service. We are out of the lines now, but not for long.

We have had another bunch of fellows come into our company to fill up. Among them was a lad from North Dakota that worked on a cattle range with me in Saskatchewan. He was drafted 3 months ago.

May 25th.
A few lines to let you know that I am fine, hope it will find you all the same. How are you making it farming? By the way things look now it means about 2 or 3 years longer. Of course we cannot tell, it might change suddenly. I suppose everybody is farming in Norway. The potatoes are in blossom over here. This country is all right, but give me the old U. S. A. England and France are very poor, you certainly would be surprised at the change if you came. Have not had any letters from Mother, so cannot let you know anything. Got word that Len Hellyer and Charlie got killed. Poor fellows! I guess my old school chums will all get killed.

Tell the children not to forget me and talk to them of me.

Soldier's Letter
Written by Ronald Lapham, brother of Ethel Lapham of Norway Lake, who is in the 103d Infantry, Headquarters 60, Signal Platoon, A. E. F.

At the Front, May 13, 1918.

My Dear Sister:
This morning I got your letter of April 2. I always feel happier somehow after reading your letters.

This is a cloudy day and rather cool. I have written you three times within the last ten days. Not so bad for me. Will write again this week.

We have got a big proposition ahead of us to lick the Germans and we realize it, but we are going to do it. The war will not end by the big battles, either. Germany has many men yet, although a lot of them are very young.

We have been in the trenches since February up until now. That is, all except a few days. We have been here at this front since April 17, not counting the reserve time we spent a few miles in the rear of the line. We do not know how long we will be here. When we come out this time, we are entitled to a long rest.

name. We boys talked much of old times at home.

I should like to hear Lucy play now. She must have improved much. I go out riding when not fighting the Boche. We all have big families of them.

May 15, 1918.
This has been one fine day, nice and sunny. I walked two miles to the lake to sign the April pay-roll. Quite a hike, isn't it? Pretty near worth the $36 to walk that far. Have got my service stripe on now. It looks rather pretty I think. I also got your letter of April 15, while there to-day. I was very glad to hear as usual. It is rather quiet here at spells now.

No Ethel, you may not know which Divisions are at the Front, but you can just bet that mine is the leader of them all.

So you are planning to have a petit jardin (little garden). Going to sow potatoes and wheat, I suppose. Be sure to drag the ground well after sowing the potatoes and to hill up the wheat, not too much at first. Let me know if you wish any more information.

Are the rats tick? Ethel, if I told you the truth, you would say it was a good fish story. They would come at me three or four at a time back there in the dugout and I would practice bayonet on them. Gee! it is fun. Anyway, whether you believe it or not, they know where my underclothes are. Well, I won't tell any more after this one. One night they dragged one of the boy's rubber boots across the floor. Well, I must be as I have walked quite a little to-day.

May 16, 1918. Some extracts from Howard L. Chick's letters from Somewhere in France.

Dear Mother:
Well, at last I have heard from home. I woke up at 3 o'clock this afternoon, and, to my surprise, I found nine letters on my bed, the first I had received since I left home and you can imagine how glad I was, they were written over a month ago. I had to pinch myself to make sure I was not dreaming.

Just at present I am nursing in a hospital, nights, and sleeping days. I sleep in a tent, I left the flap up on the sunny side the other day, and when I woke the flap had nearly blistered my face and neck.

Being in a foreign country where the customs and language are strange, I am most like being in another world. I am becoming accustomed, however, to the new life, and so far had a good time. I have traveled a good deal and seen five different countries. Have seen many kinds of soldiers, besides German prisoners.

I find the money system much easier than in France. A franc is equal to a hundred cents, and is worth in American value 18.3 cents. There are five cent pieme pieces worth a cent, two cent, and so on up to a franc; above that are two franc pieces, and five franc pieces in silver, and paper money of almost all denominations. The paper money is very poorly made, and one has to be very careful not to tear it. Instead of measuring distances in miles, it is kilometers, and in measuring weight it is kilograms, for short they say, kilograms.

Now I am on night duty, I get four meals a day, and good square ones, I have a good appetite. I read, write letters, and eat to keep myself awake, when my patients do not need any attention. I have not seen Ethel and Raymond for a month, but they are both well. I never felt better in my life. Guess I am accustomed now, the weather don't seem different from that in Maine. But when it rains, such mud!

Was glad to hear that Norway did so well on the Third Liberty Loan, I tell you they can get much ahead of Norway.

I hope you will never believe the stories of drunkenness in the army for they are probably started by some poor German, and I know from actual observation that there is no truth in it. I have seen practically no drunkenness at all here.

I am learning French fast, and you can understand me better than I can them; they talk so fast I have hard work to understand them, but they certainly take lots of pains to make me understand. I am learning fast, and will be quite a Frenchman by the time I get home. I must tell you a little experience I had the other afternoon. Sergt. Lowe sent me down town for some stockings, so I said to the French girl behind the counter, "Avez vous des bas." She said, "Oui," and proceeded to show me some lady's silk stockings. I said, "non, pour les hommes." "Oui," she said, "chancez les." I found out that "bas" means "hadies" and "chancez" means "hadies' socks."

One woman in a store said she loved all American soldiers. The French people over here have picked up some English which helps a whole lot, but I have to be careful, for they will say, "I have just returned to candle as my lights have gone out. Have just finished my midnight lunch, fried some meat and potatoes; scrambled some eggs, made coffee, and had a bowl of peach for dessert. I am growing fast, when I get home I will eat you out of house and home. Oh! but I would like some good home cooking though I have all I need. We can get chocolates at the Y. M. C. A., but I would like to have a home in readiness.

Death of James O. Crooker

James Orlando Crooker, one of Norway's most respected citizens, passed away Tuesday morning at his home on Deering street, where he had resided for over half a century, after an illness of several months duration. He was born in Paris, Me., Dec. 4, 1841. His parents were Calvin and Lydia (Thayer) Crooker. His father was a descendant of an ancient Puritan Massachusetts family and his mother was the daughter of Lieut. Isaac Thayer, an officer in the Continental Army in the Revolution.

Mr. Crooker acquired his education in the schools of his native town and for several years was teacher of great success. He began his business career as a clerk in a hardware store at South Paris, where he was a member of a brass band which became one of the most noted musical organizations in the State. In a few years he went to Colburn, N. H., where he was employed as clerk in a store. His employers, wherever he was, finding him thoroughly reliable and trustworthy, desired to retain him in their service and the changes he made were all of his own choice.

Mr. Crooker came to Norway in 1864 and purchased the tin and hardware business of W. H. Woodbury and others to whom Mr. Thomas Higgins had sold it. In 1866, having married his daughter, Miss Adella A. Higgins, he formed a partnership with Mr. Higgins which lasted till the latter died in 1874, when Mr. Crooker took sole charge, enlarging and extending it so much as to be regarded for many years as the leading hardware merchant in this section of the state. Mr. Crooker for several years served as chairman of the board of selectmen. He refused to be tied up to the exacting duties of the position after a time and declined other offices, preferring to devote his time and energies to his business.

Mrs. Crooker for nearly half a century, ably assisted her husband in the business. No wife was ever a greater helpmeet to her husband or deserving of greater credit. They accumulated a handsome competence for their declining days and for several years have been free from the exacting cares of business.

They had two children, one, Mrs. Estelle A. Bell, an adopted daughter, the other Miss Ella Higgins Crooker, died young, lamented by all who knew her. James O. Crooker was an exemplary citizen. His integrity was never questioned and his private life was without stain. He hated wrong impression and believed in the universal brotherhood of man.

The funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at his residence, Rev. Charles R. Tenney, an old friend of the family officiating. Interment was in the family lot at Pine Grove with Masonic honors.

A. Kinsman Hill
A. Kinsman Hill passed away suddenly Monday morning June 24, at his home on his farm on the Otisfield road. Mr. Hill has been a sufferer from asthma since he was a young man and had been great one time hoping for relief, but no cure could be found.

He was born in Paris, April 9, 1849, the son of Daniel K. and Nancy Hill Hill, and married Hannah Gammon of Norway, June 20, 1878. He bought the farm soon after his marriage, where he has since lived. Mrs. Hill died September 6, 1909. Mr. Hill was a member of Norway Grange. He is survived by three children, Charles Roscoe, who has always lived on the home farm, Mrs. Ida Douglas of Bethel and Daniel of West Paris. One sister, Mrs. A. J. Nevers of Norway also survives.

The funeral was held at his late home Wednesday afternoon. Rev. M. O. Baltzer of the Norway Congregational church officiated.

THE KAISER'S TALK TO HELL

(The following poem is one that was sent home to George Ames by his son, George Francis Ames, and is one that is being circulated at the camp at Spartanburg, Va.):
The Kaiser called the devil up
On the telephone one day;
The girl at central listened to
All they had to say.
"Hello," she heard the Kaiser say,
Just tell him it is Kaiser Bill
That wants him on the phone.
The devil said: "Hello" to Bill
And Bill said: "How are you?"
"I'm running a Hell here on earth,
So tell me what to do."
"What can I do?" the devil said,
"My dear old Kaiser Bill."
If there's a thing that I can do
To help you, I sure will."
The Kaiser said: "Now listen,
And I will try to tell you
The way that I am running
On earth a modern hell."
"I've saved for this for many years,
And I've waited out to kill
That it will be a modern job
You leave your Kaiser Bill."
"My army went through Belgium,
Shooting women and children down;
We tore up all her country,
And burned up all her towns."
"My Zips dropped bombs on cities,
Killed both the old and young;
And those that you didn't get
Were taken out and hung."
"I started out for Paris,
With the aid of poisonous gas.
The Belgians, damn them, stopped us,
And would not let us pass."
"My submarines are devils,
Why you should see them right,
They go sneaking through the sea,
And sink your U-boats at night."
"I was running things to suit me,
Till a year or so ago,
When a man called Woodrow Wilson
Wrote me to go more slow."
He says to me, 'Dear William,
We don't want to make you sore,
So be sure to tell your Kaiser
Not to sink our ships no more."
"We've told you for the last time,
And dear Bill, stop to you,
And if you do not stop it,
You've got to fight us too."
"I did not stop to listen,
And he's coming after me
With a million Yankee soldiers
From their home across the sea."
"Now, that's why I called you, Satan,
For I want advice from you;
I want you to tell me what to do,
Just what I ought to do."
"My dear old Kaiser William,
There's not much for me to tell,
For the Yanks will make it hotter
Than I can for you in Hell."
"I've been a mean old devil,
But not half as mean as you,
And the minute that you get here
I will give my job to you."
"I'll be ready for you coming,
And I'll keep the fires bright,
And I'll have your room all ready
When the Yanks begin to fight."
"For the boys from Maine will get you;
Hang up the line and tell your hat,
And meet me here in Hell!"

HARKEN BACK ON THE PAST

Twenty-four Years Ago Last Week

The water is being left out of the tannery vats.

Thad Cross has been appointed special police. The following is the answer as to why Emogene Hunt is not to return for the fall term:

Miss Hunt graduated from Norway High school a year ago having taken the teachers' course. In my opinion she was the best teacher graduated from the course to that time. I put a large responsibility upon her giving her the North Waterford Grammar school. As soon as she arrived at the school in the fall with good methods and strict discipline a number of complaints came to her and me, both directly and indirectly, that she was not the person for the place and that I had erred in judgement.

Miss Hunt not only taught the school throughout the year, but did much to build up the civic pride of the school as well as much of the material equipment. She had an exceptionally clean school, both mentally and physically. Her work extended beyond the four walls of the school room into the church and social life of the village.

This spring she asked me what I had to offer for another year. She had in mind some of the unjust criticism of the fall before. I told her I would give her $12.00 per week to return to North Waterford. That would be for 30 weeks. She asked what other plans were available. I told her of the Oxford Grammar school at $12.00 for a year of 34 weeks. She came to her own conclusion and accepted the Oxford Grammar school a week later.

The same condition exists at present as a year ago. I have employed for next year for the school, Cora I. Wentworth of Denmark. She taught in Mexico for two years with good success. She has taught the consolidated school at Swift's Corner for me for the past year with the best satisfaction to all concerned of any year in the history of the school. If all the people at North Waterford will accept her in the fall as innocent of inefficiency until proven guilty then I presume that if she eventually be approved efficient she can be retained for more than one year.

Sup't. True C. Morrill.

Wm. C. Cole has finished building the Merritt Welch store, Noyes Drug store, a horse carriage house and a house for the hand tub. Cole has accomplished more at building than any of them to date.

The tannery bridge is being rebuilt. This was badly burned. The street on both sides will be graded.

The engagement is announced of C. P. Bann of Colby, '99, principal of the Norway High school and Annie Richardson of Norway, a member of this year's graduating class at Colby.

Much interest is manifested in the tower and clock to be placed on the new Norway Hall building.

The tannery pits were cleared of water and it ran into the tannery brook. This killed the fish in the brook in such numbers that the Board of Health was notified to look after them. They had the brook cleared of them at once and now peace and quietness reigns again in that locality.

Wm. C. Leavitt has purchased the store which he has occupied for the past five or six years. F. W. Sanborn and E. H. Brown and family will continue to occupy the upstairs rent a while.

Verne M. Whitman and Freeland Howe, Jr., Lillie M. Hazelton and Annie M. Richardson of Norway and Herbert L. Whitman of South Paris graduate from Colby this week.

George P. Lock has, we understand, bought the lot of B. C. A. Pingree which was formerly occupied by the Gilbert & Foss store, and will build a store thereon with a tenement above.

Dr. A. P. Burnell's house is up and well under way, also C. P. Bann's, Gilbert Allen's, Dr. A. N. French, E. H. Brown's and E. E. Millett's custom shoe manufactory.

Dennis Pike picked his first lot of green peas, Monday morning, June 24th. He had cultivated strawberries for a week.

Carl Stearns arrived Thursday from the west, being called for military physical examination in Class 1. He visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Stearns during his stay. Mr. Stearns was formerly connected with the Singer Sewing machine Co. At present he represents the United Shoe Machinery Co., retail department with territory in Ohio, Indiana, West Virginia and other states in the middle west.

Joe Dubey is changing worn out pipes through the village for the Norway Water Co. The service pipe to David Jordan's was nearly choked after being in use twenty-two years. At L. I. Gilbert's residence iron rust had completely filled the pipe and no pressure would drive the water through. The service was installed there about thirty years ago.

Kenneth Dullea brought to the Advertiser office, Friday morning a baby's brown shoe, size two, which he found on Whitman street. We also have the box of hair which was found a while ago and a pair of glasses.

Mrs. Mary A. Gregg, who has been spending several months with her son, Fred Gregg, was called home to Pittsburg, Pa., on account of the sudden illness of her son who lives there.

Merton Tower of Portland was in town Friday, as guest of his sister, Mrs. Harold A. Anderson.

Frank O'Brien of the United Shoe Machinery Co., branch at Lewiston, was at the Carroll, Jellerson Co. factory, Friday. Frank is an ex-wrestler and won fame in Massachusetts when a young man. He has referred two matches in Norway and found to have ability in that line.

Jerry Matter lost two toes on the cutting up saw at C. B. Cummings & Sons Co. lumber mill, June 20. The wound is healing nicely and he expects no serious trouble.

F. S. Smith, who has occupied the Geo. Wood premises on Cottage street since fall, has bought the Williamson house at the falls. Alton Merrill, the present occupant will move his family when a desirable rent can be found.

Many from Norway visited the Bistany's show, which was exhibited in Auburn last week. The carnival company had a long string of attractions framed up to suit the popular taste and incidentally capture loose change.

Geo. Goff at one time employed at Frank Hurd's, has bought out the blacksmith business of William Moody in the Allen shop on Main street.

The party Sunday at Herbert Hosmer's cottage, "The Wigwag," included Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lapham of Norway and Mr. and Mrs. Leon Lapham of Rumford, who were married Saturday night. Other members were Marguerite A. Frost and Priv. Clyde Lapham, Med. Dept., Fort LeVitt. Mr. and Mrs. Leon Lapham returned to Rumford, Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lapham went to Bath, Wednesday, where he is employed in the ship yards.

Mrs. Elizabeth J. Andrews and daughter, Nellie Andrews, went to Old Orchard, Wednesday, where they will spend a portion of the summer. Mrs. Mary Holden and daughter, Grace, of Acton, Mass., went there Monday.

Lele W. Sampson and Philip M. Everett caught three fine red spot in Lake Pennesseewassee, Monday. The combined weight of the three fish was five and three-fourths pounds.

NORTH WATERFORD

"Why is it?" Answered

In the Advertiser of June 21st there was a question as to why good teachers were not retained in the school at North Waterford. The following is the answer as to why Emogene Hunt is not to return for the fall term:

Miss Hunt graduated from Norway High school a year ago having taken the teachers' course. In my opinion she was the best teacher graduated from the course to that time. I put a large responsibility upon her giving her the North Waterford Grammar school. As soon as she arrived at the school in the fall with good methods and strict discipline a number of complaints came to her and me, both directly and indirectly, that she was not the person for the place and that I had erred in judgement.

Miss Hunt not only taught the school throughout the year, but did much to build up the civic pride of the school as well as much of the material equipment. She had an exceptionally clean school, both mentally and physically. Her work extended beyond the four walls of the school room into the church and social life of the village.

This spring she asked me what I had to offer for another year. She had in mind some of the unjust criticism of the fall before. I told her I would give her $12.00 per week to return to North Waterford. That would be for 30 weeks. She asked what other plans were available. I told her of the Oxford Grammar school at $12.00 for a year of 34 weeks. She came to her own conclusion and accepted the Oxford Grammar school a week later.

The same condition exists at present as a year ago. I have employed for next year for the school, Cora I. Wentworth of Denmark. She taught in Mexico for two years with good success. She has taught the consolidated school at Swift's Corner for me for the past year with the best satisfaction to all concerned of any year in the history of the school. If all the people at North Waterford will accept her in the fall as innocent of inefficiency until proven guilty then I presume that if she eventually be approved efficient she can be retained for more than one year.

Water Powers In Maine

A certain paper advocating State ownership expresses surprise that such notable and worthy concerns as those great Cotton Manufacturing Corporations of Lewiston, Biddeford and Augusta, and the Great Paper Manufacturing Corporations of Millinocket, Rumford Falls and Woodland should ally themselves with the opposition to State ownership of water powers.

In an inspired letter to the Portland Press an advocate of State ownership, says: "A corporation appears on the scene and by Legislative grant gets the right to build a dam at the outlet of the lake. From that moment and forever after that corporation claims the sole and exclusive right to control the water in that chain of lakes and ponds. All the wealth that this water produces in the form of power goes into the dividends of that corporation. * * * Even if some Legislature in the past gave away these rights it is not time for the people of to-day to reacquire them? Should the actions of some past Legislature forever bar the citizens of Maine from their equitable rights?"

Do the people of Maine think that these advocates of State ownership are inviting capital to develop Maine's resources or will this Socialistic propaganda prevent capital from investing in Maine?

LOOK Shoes are High

Shoes are high is the heading that our Advertising man caught in the advertising of a large advertisement in an out State paper.

WE DON'T

and will not impose on the people of South Paris and vicinity by telling them that shoes are high. They know that everything is high. BUT we will say a few things about Shoes. There are two ways and four ways in the making and selling of shoes. The four way method is from Manufacturer to Jobber, Jobber to Wholesaler, Wholesaler to Retailer, Retailer to You. THREE PROFITS. The two way method. Manufacturer to Retailer. Retailer to You. ONE PROFIT. Hence shoes at the same price must be of better value than shoes that pass through the four-way method. The Douglas and Regal manufacturers sell direct to agents through the Country and are in a position to give better quality and at the same time give the retailer a fairer profit than the so-called unbranded shoes. They have established agencies in different towns and cities and we are pleased to announce that we are the Agents for both the Regal and Douglas Shoes. Come in and look over our Summer Styles.

STORMY DAY MOOSEHEAD LAKE NOTES AND MUSINGS

Saturday, the 22nd—Much out of the usual—heavy wind out of the South and the sea gulls refuse to come to the Island. Can't stand on Elgin's wharf without being wet as combers are breaking over it.

Dr. Stetson and Campbell leave for Bangor. They take with them seven fish and the story of how the big salmon swiped their tackle at Caribou. It was as big as a paddle blade and about as long. I saw it gyrating in and out of the water and weighed it with my eye. It was a big fish. The Doctor must be Bangor Monday, hence his leaving with a promise of return July 4th for a few days' fishing.

John Owens of Rockland, Mass., is testing his tackle and rigging up "killing casts." He, too, has twice caught fish. He is now fitting out for sharks and fresh water whales. He is an old fisherman here. This is his 23rd annual visit. He sent out ten pounds of trout yesterday—only three fish. The other big one went to his guide's family in Greenville, at least I think so as I saw a suspicious looking package given to the boat's deck hand with the request to send it up to the house. It might have been a soiled shirt he was sending home to be washed.

Mr. Owens is a successful fly fisherman and holds a record of a five and one-half pound square tail and a forty minute battle with a salmon of unknown weight. John spends several hours each season at the boat where he hooked the big salmon, hoping to get his mate but up to now has been unsuccessful. He is a persistent worker and uncompromisingly casts a fly from six to fourteen hours per day and looks smiling when he comes in empty handed. This has not occurred thus far on this trip.

The wind is terrific by spells and the waves dash on the island so as to rattle the sideboard crockery. I'm of the opinion the island is hollow, judging from the sound and the waves may break through and swallow us up in an instant. Mother entertains no such notion. She is busy weaving good thread into ringlets of edging to be sewed on a night gown which will never be seen by the public except on the clothes line.

Waiter is thinking of clocks and he's succeeded in getting "the frying-pan-clock," which has been silent many years to tick. An achievement which has secured to him lasting fame, provided the clock continues to point out time with any degree of accuracy. He recently took down Elgin's motor boat engine— which had been on strike for several days from Kineo, put it together so it would run. Since then he has taken great pride in stormy weather navigation and gracefully wears the title of "Capt. Smith" of the Sea Bird Hattie. He tried to run her without gasoline the other day and the engine wouldn't work. We came up from Caribou last night in a tempest of billows and with three un- dices in tow and safely landed, safely at the pier without swamping. I was glad to get ashore as were the others, but Capt. Smith professed to enjoy rocking in the deep on the Hattie. I didn't.

Frank T. Authier, guide, hunter and trapper and hermit of Mud Pond is here. He admits seeing 74 years and a good many fish and beaver in his day. He has bucked a paddle and worn snow-shoes for many years. His eyesight is failing and has compelled him to quit reading, which annoys him greatly.

I heard one of the guides say that he would never lose his eyesight as Authier has because he didn't read; he couldn't read I presume this guide—a man of probably 30—believes the Authier's reading ruined his eyes and that he can escape failing sight in old age I hope he can, but he has paid a terrible price all through his life, for the sake of no wearing glasses. Neither can this man write, therefore he will be free from writing the end of the arm. It is seldom a man under 40 in New England will admit that he can neither read or write. Guide Authier is said to have a college education, having graduated from a Montreal college in the sixties. He can read French, English and Greek and can write a good hand in the first two languages.

There are two table girls here, Miss Annie Gertrude Haskay and her sister, Mary Helen of Orono. The former was here last year. Both are under 25 and are willing workers, modest, ladylike and polite. They work in the kitchen, wait on table, wash and iron and do the chamber work in Mrs. Greenleaf's absence.

Last year Helen did similar work at a sportsman camp at Pushaw Lake and depended only for wages on tips from sportsmen. She got $150.00 which she says she used in buying things for the house, meaning her home in Orono. Her father is 77 years old and is a section hand on a railroad. Her mother is 66. She has three married brothers and the youngest is 33 years old. She says the wealthiest party that came here this year gave no tips, but the most of the sports give a dollar or more each. The girls get stated wages per week here and the tips are extra. The cook also depends a little on tips to swell his salary. This is the common practice in all the sporting camps and summer resort places. The person who does not pay tribute to the help is considered mean.

The tracks of Big Ephraim, the monster deer, has not been seen this season. He seldom comes forth until the arrival of the summer tourists. Then you will be shown the seven inch hoof prints of Old Eph as he walks about the camps of Ephraim, looking into the windows and traveling through the garden. The peculiar feature is he never does any damage while the smaller footed deer work havoc in the garden, but Old Eph never. I'm told that since Johnny Edwards left the big footed animals have ceased leaving footmarks about here and this leads to the surmise that Johnny took the ox hoof along with him in his baggage.

When Bill Robateau leaves his canoe he ties it. At night he takes it from the water, turns it upside down, placing the equipment under it and puts a halter bit in the mouth and securely ties it to a birch tree. Other guides are not so particular. I told Mother who had watched him that no doubt sometime he had lost a canoe by having it blow away by the wind while on shore. On Friday I found that Bill had snatched the canoe for him by taking it up and not too gently dropping it on a log. Never again will he leave a canoe unwatched overnight. It is told of him that he ties it down with two double halter bit harness when he stores it for the winter in his barn at Greenville. I'll not vouch for the truth of this assertion, but do know he securely lashes his canoe while here.

Chas. Adams of North Lovell is cook here and a good one too. His brother, Herb Adams, has a sporting camp on Dig Kezar Lake at North Lovell and his sister, Mrs. Curt Bickard, is landlady of a popular summer place at Lower Stone Pond, East Stoneham. Herb Adams married one of J. C. Frost's daughters of Norway as did Capt. Walter C. Smith and I wonder what relation Walter bears to the cook here. They seem to be friendly and intimate though they never met until Capt. Smith arrived here.

Elgin—well its little use to say anything about him—he is everywhere and takes great delight in telling you just what to go to get fish. Yes, tackle smashers. Elgin sells fishing tackle.

Mrs. Greenleaf is getting on finely in the Eastern Maine General Hospital in Bangor and we have sent her a box of trout to distribute among her friends provided there are more than she can eat herself.

Henry Bartley of Greenville runs two hotels, Frack Range and the Lilly Bay House. He vibrates pretty regularly between the two houses, going by boat 14 miles almost daily. I think he has a pass as I never have seen him show a ticket. He moves his hand most effectively when he passes Sugar Island and probably thinks of the hotel bill I am owing him. He has my auto in his garage and takes consolation in the thought that I'll be round and settle up before the car gets out of his possession.

Henry is a busy man and has much to look after besides his two houses. I wonder of the "racers" brought in have not been artificially stripped of spawn and milt? I wish there were some means of knowing. Why couldn't the fish when stripped be tagged so we could know whether the stripping process is the cause of their emaciated condition. Nearly half the salmon taken at the Middledam, Lower Richardson Lake that I recently saw were "racers" i. e. much too long for weight. Examination of some showed they were carrying last year's spawn. Not so many "racers" are taken here as in the Rangeleys, though I've seen some here, but fewer this year than usual.

Mr. Libby at the North Raymond Fish Hatchery, Sebago Lake, told me that one year many of the salmon strippers were tagged, but none of them ever returned to the hatchery bearing the tag on them though several were caught by fishermen the next spring after stripping the fall before. He thought the tags worked out of the fin in which they were placed. No doubt some device could be invented to mark this fish. It should be done. Its possible that in this way the "racer" problem could be solved. Why not try it?

DENMARK

The severe frosts of Wednesday and Thursday night did a great deal of damage to the crops here, the beans suffering worst of all. Some of the farmers intend to plant the bean field over again. The corn while badly damaged, was not killed.

The rains, while doing the farmers a great deal of good, prevented our young people, who take part in the drama "Deacon Dubbs," from playing at Denmark, Saturday night, as they had planned, but they will go next Saturday night, if the weather permits.

NORTH WATERFORD

Visits Beautiful Garden

Mrs. B. K. Shedd visited her sisters in North Bridgton last week, Mrs. O. V. Edwards, Mrs. F. O. Chadbourne and Mrs. G. S. Marr, who came from Portland for a few days and to be present at the graduation exercises at the Academy.

While there Mrs. Shedd in company with her sister, Mrs. Marr, visited at the bungalow of Messrs. Fox and Perry on the Ridge. The bungalow is owned and occupied by the two noted artists. They were shown through their beautiful grounds by the kindness of Mr. Perry, who makes a specialty of roses and lilies, whose grounds are covered by beautiful flowers. The roadway leading to the bungalow has a hedge of hybrid roses, while roses of all kinds and colors abound through out the spacious grounds. The plot of exquisite lilies of golden, mauve, pink, orange and variegated ones are terraced off by stepping stones between the beds all of a size, with the exception of the outer rim which is composed of large, smooth round stones, all of a size too.

Mr. Perry has scoured the surrounding country to find these beautiful stones, the same shape, size and color. There also are stepping stones by which one can walk around the flowers and which enhances the beauty of them as seen from these stones. Outside of these is a beautiful trailing juniper hedge that has taken Mr. Perry five years to complete.

Mr. Perry has an eye for the blending of colors that is something wonderful. He is devoted to his art and his flowers and is an untiring worker. He has caused the Ridge to blossom into unsurpassed loveliness. He erected a stone monument years ago that is at present time a mass of scarlet poppies. A beautiful sight indeed. The highway leading to the bungalow on either side is one solid bed of pansies and other beautiful flowers.

They came away with two bouquets a piece of roses and lilies, as a reminder of their pleasant call and the hospitality of their kind host. The place is well worth miles of travel to see. It is beautiful beyond description. The bungalow has the contour of Pleasant Mountain. Mt. Pleasant is directly west of the bungalow, from which the plan was taken.

Mrs. Lillie Young and Flora are stopping again at her brother's, Jesse Littlefield's.

Mrs. Lois Littlefield is visiting her children here.

The frost June 21 cleaned up tender vegetables in many sections that escaped previous frosts. Many fields planted to corn, beans or potatoes are a wreck. Fortunately it was not a general freeze as many gardens and farms escaped without a visit. Fog saved many patches on low land, but upland farms received more than their share of the results from unseasonable temperature. Home gardens in the village were protected with papers, several owners going out at midnight to cover their plants.
James Pledge says, "Tell the people that I have not sold my meat business as reported, but closed up shop until September 1. Will open as usual on that date." If your horse is "off his feed" you cannot afford to go quickly to prevent more serious trouble.

WHITE'S GOLDEN TONIC

is intended primarily to keep the system in such prime working-order that the horse will thrive on his regular food. So-called condition powders do not reach the real cause of the trouble. White's Golden Tonic is a real scientific medicine that acts on the liver, urinary and digestive organs and gives the power to throw off disease.

Golden Tonic is especially valuable in treating Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, Swelled Legs, Yellow Water, Horse Distemper and the numerous diseases that result from run-down condition.

Suspected "Wild Man" Proved Very Tame

A strange appearing man roaming the streets Sunday afternoon attracted the attention of several people. His peculiar appearance, vacant countenance and unkempt features led to the superstition that he might be the much talked about "wild man." Officer Charles Ruggles was put on the case and soon rounded up the suspect, who made no attempt to escape. The man was scared blue and unable to give a connected account of himself, but a registration card which he quickly produced displayed an unpronounceable name, with residence at Bangor.

While detained at the lock-up several identified him as a workman at the Park Manufacturing Co., who had been there but a few days, and another witness proved him to be a fellow boarder at South Paris.

It was learned during the investigation that he had been looking for a farming job and was searching out the Norway committee interested in agricultural labor. His memory not being over good led him through the village in an aimless quest which brought him up against a detention. He was immediately released and they are still hunting for the right "wild man."

Mrs. Alfred Monk went Sunday to York to see her mother and her husband, who has employment there.

BRYANT'S POND

For Camp Devens

All present will have in remembrance the occasion and of their gathering on the old common one beautiful June morning, to greet and bid good-bye to the four boys, soon to be on their way to Camp Devens. From a spirit of patriotism this gathering was made up by those truly appreciating the meaning of these boys' departure from home, and to stand later perhaps, beside their brothers on French soil. It was a meeting sincere in its expression and a worthy testimony to our town and community, to be appreciated by these boys in the days that pass over, through their absence from the old home.

At 8 o'clock, a procession, headed by the band, James L. Bowker, marshal; with representatives of the Boy Scouts bearing the standard colors; the Bryant's Pond Cadets under Harold H. Gammon; and members of the high school, marched to the grounds in front of the railway station.

A fervent prayer was offered by Rev. E. H. Stover and Prof. C. M. Wike then addressed the boys in a loyal, splendid speech that was full of hope and encouragement. A patriotic song was rendered by Mrs. E. H. Stover, and then followed reminders in the shape of gifts from citizens and the Red Cross contingent. After an appropriate speech by Fred F. DeBost, these gifts were placed in their hands by him, in behalf of their townsmen. The band played several airs and many cheers were given as the time arrived for the boys' departure for Paris. Nearly thirty auto loads of people accompanied them and on their arrival the large procession was formed in charge of Harold H. Gammon and they were escorted to the Court House, being the first contingent to arrive. The names of the boys called are Homer Elbridge Crooker, Woodstock; Ches Marshall, Andrews, Woodstock; Harry Everett Cole, Greenwood; Carroll Prentiss Buck, Milton Plantation.

There has been considerable moving in our village. Harold Gammon has moved into the Little Jay for the summer. Seymour Brooks has moved into the house he recently bought where Mr. Gammon had lived. Glenn Brooks has moved into the Frank Whitman house on Church street.

When you see a car puffing and panting up steep hills and over rough roads when it really ought to move along as easily and as steadily as a brook glides in its course—blame it on inferior gasoline.

The use of poor gasoline, whether for limousine, touring car, roadster or motor truck, is always extravagant waste.

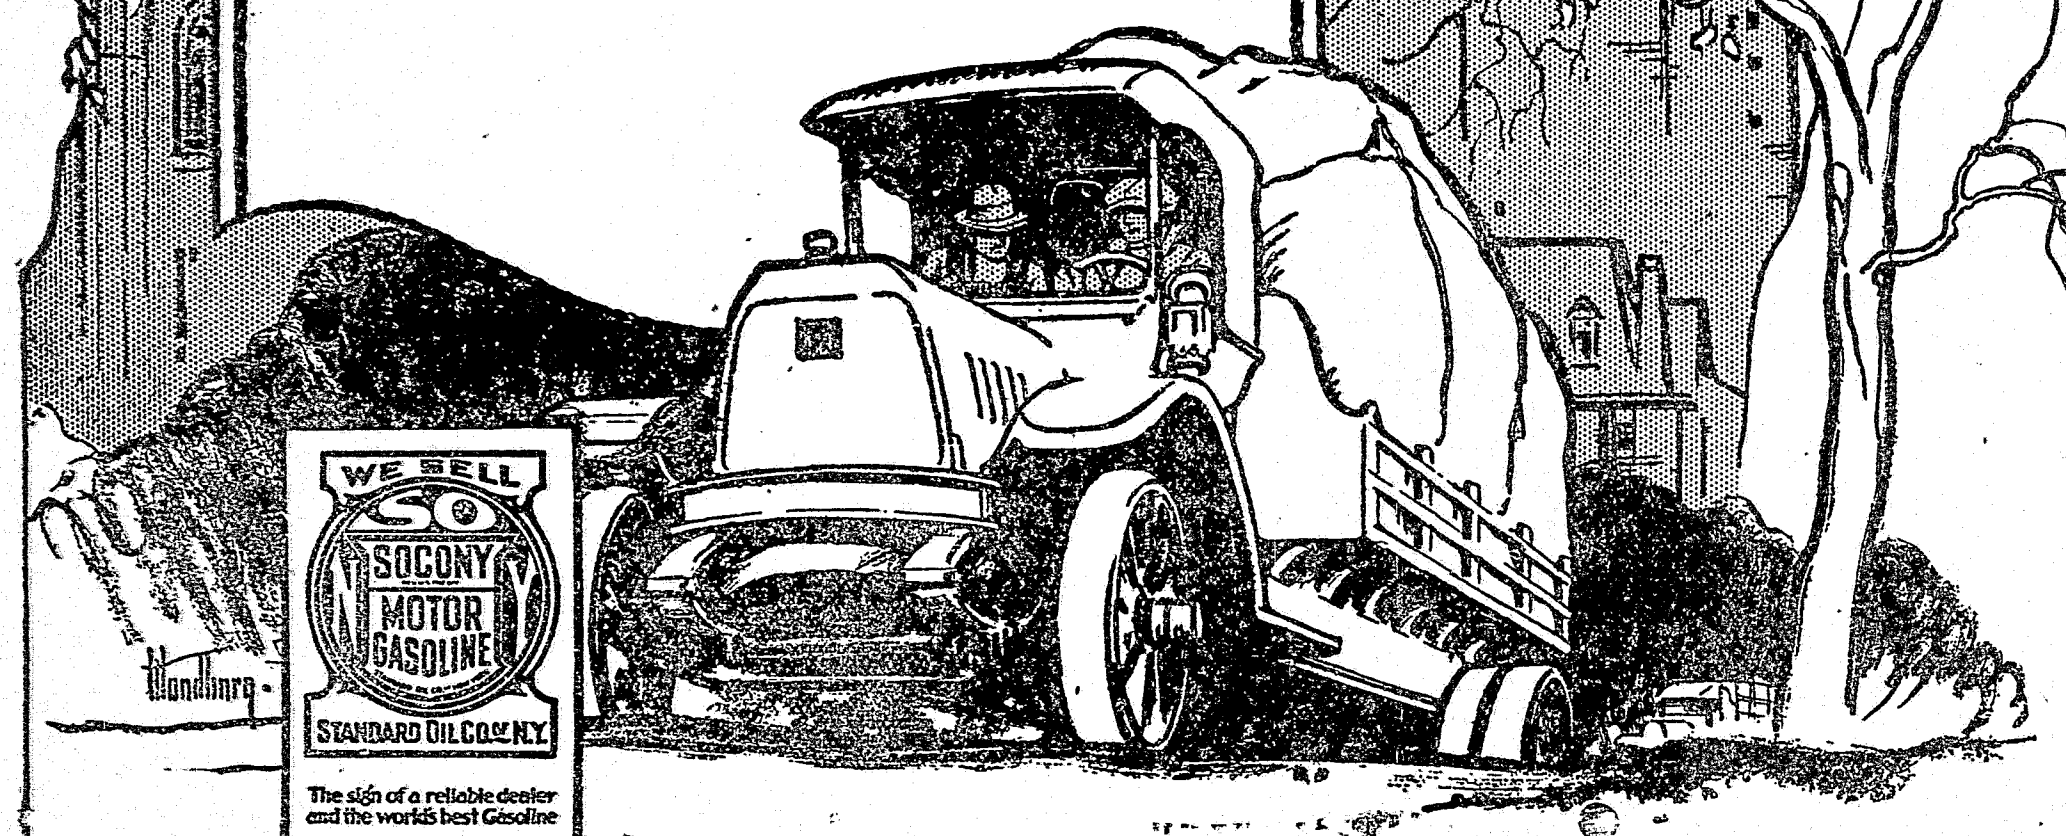

In these days there is no excuse for such waste. Buy high mileage and full power. Buy SO-CO-NY Motor Gasoline.

SO-CO-NY is the surest economy. It means more miles per gallon. It is clean—powerful—quick-starting—reliable.
